Clear Inkjet Film is a high density polyester-based clear film for computer-to-film digital imaging using recommended inkjet printers. It is ideal for pleasing full-color & screen positives in any size, with unbeatable value-for-money. Clear Inkjet Film is designed to produce high-resolution four-color ready positives with UV density matching silver-based films. Clear Inkjet Film can also be used for generating negatives. (However, the ink consumption is significantly higher than that for making positives.)

When imaged on high-resolution pigment-based inkjet printers (e.g. Epson Stylus Pro x880/x450 series), the patented ink-receiving layer ensures excellent reproduction of 2 - 98% dots at 2880 dpi, micro-fine lines and perfect solids. Clear Inkjet Film offers the lowest cost computer-to-film solution, ideally suited for screen printers or spot color offset printers and several other applications currently using expensive silver-based films. (Note : It takes a little while to dry the Pigment Based ink on this film)
